Quickest and Accurate way of Preparing, Submitting Provisional Patent Application

If you are Independent Inventor or a Start-up, or a Business, and want to prepare and file a provisional patent application with the USPTO, IPWayz Provisional helps you achieve this goal.

Benefits

- Helps you to establish “priority” right over the invention.
- Enables you to use the term “patent pending” on your product
- You can get 12 months-time to fully develop the invention and in the meanwhile, ascertain its market potential
- It is less expensive to prepare and file the application

IPWayz Provisional is cloud based software application that allows independent inventors, Start-ups and businesses to prepare and file their provisional applications online and get the earliest priority date for their inventions.

Purpose of Provisional Patent Application

A provisional patent application is an effective way to preserve your invention rights for up to one year at the United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO). This provides you the time to decide whether to file a regular patent application or not.

Why IPWayz Provisional?

IPWayz Provisional is low cost option for you to quickly create and submit your patent application online and get “patent pending” status. From there on, that is, from the filing date, you have one year to file a formal patent application such as country application or PCT International application.

- IPWayz Provisional provides you with provisional patent application checklist and quickly prepare your application with the patent office.
- You have the option to leverage requisite search strategy to conduct patentability search or Freedom To Operate (FTO) search and ensure you have clear path for patent protection.
- You can quickly file your application online with USPTO Electronic Filing System – EFS-Web.
- You have the choice of preparing one or multiple provisional patent applications
- Receive Email alerts & reminders for potential patent filing within 12 months

Based on your choices of subscription you have the choice of leveraging the experts to prepare your patent application and file and also receive reminder alerts and notification so that your application is not abandoned.
