Oracle Continues to Expand Ecosystem of Partners to Support Customer Success in the Cloud

Hundreds of Applications and Service Providers in the Oracle Cloud Marketplace Help Customers Maximize ROI From the Oracle Cloud Applications

Oracle Corporation 20 hours ago

SAN FRANCISCO, CA--(Marketwired - Oct 27, 2015) - ORACLE OPENWORLD - Oracle (NYSE: ORCL) today announced that it continues to rapidly expand its partner ecosystem for Software a Service (SaaS) through the Oracle Cloud Marketplace. With a rapidly growing portfolio of partners for Oracle SaaS, customers have access to an expanding number of third party applications to enhance the ROI of their cloud investments. Customers can also choose from a large number of partners who can help them implement Oracle SaaS in record time and at a lower cost.

"The Oracle Cloud Marketplace was designed to help customers quickly find, evaluate, and deploy the applications they need to reach their business goals," said Sanjay Sinha, vice president, Platform Products, Oracle. "Oracle is committed to working closely with our extensive partner community of system integrators and independent software vendors to offer customers the services and applications they need to better serve customers and maximize the true potential of the cloud. The growth in application listings over the past year has been astounding and we look forward to continuing to add more valuable resources for our customers in the coming year."

The Oracle Cloud Marketplace is a one-stop, global marketplace for Oracle customers to find business applications and services from trusted Oracle partners. Today, hundreds of leading providers of enterprise cloud applications can be found in the marketplace, giving customers quick access to curated applications that integrate and extend the value of their Oracle Cloud SaaS Application investments. Partner applications are available for critical business functions such as Sales, Marketing, Service, Talent and more. Key independent software vendors (ISVs) in the Oracle Cloud Marketplace include: Accusoft, ADP, AgilePoint, AMC Technology, Augment, Avaya, Avention, Blue Coat, Box, Braintree, Citrix, Colabo, Configure One,

Documill, Docusign, Dynamic Signal, FirstRain, Five9, GamEffective, Ghostery, GrinMark, HireRight, idio, IKO System, Infosys, Interactive Intelligence, JetPay, Jitterbit, Lattice Engines, Mintigo, MoNimbus, Response Wise, RingLead, Scout Exchange, SGC Software, Smartsheet.com, Success Software, Tenfold, uStudio, VajraSoft, and Windsor Circle.

Oracle continues to invest heavily in training partners on Oracle SaaS, providing customers skilled experts to smooth their transition to the Oracle Cloud. Currently, customers can find hundreds of partners offering consulting and implementation services on the Oracle Cloud Marketplace to help them maximize the business benefits of Oracle Cloud SaaS. Key system integrators (SIs) offering services through the Oracle Cloud Marketplace include: Apex IT, Arclight Consulting, BizTech (a Denovo Company), Cognizant, Config Consultants, DAZ Systems, Drivestream, Emtec, eVerge Group, Frontera Consulting, HCL Technologies, Hitachi Consulting, Infosys, Infovity, KBACE Technologies, KPIT Technologies, KPMG, L&T Infotech, RJT Solution Beacon, Serene (an AST Company), Tata Consultancy Services, Velocity Technology Solutions, Version 1, Wipro, and Zensar Technologies.

URL: http://finance.yahoo.com/news/oracle-continues-expand-ecosystem-partners-182000976.html